

About Us

Computer Works is a leading provider of information technology solutions to small and medium-sized business, industry, education, government, and individual home users.

For more than twenty years, Computer Works has provided the highest quality services and products in our industry, to Quincy and the surrounding area. This is a tradition we don't take lightly. Our staff is trained to handle everything from a simple printer jam to implementing and administering a network of 250 or more computers.

Our primary goal is to see that our clients are pleased and benefiting from our services and solutions. We would like to thank our clients for their support and we hope to continue to serve you in the future.
